For the avoidance of doubt, it is hereby clarified, that the number of days for the delivery of the order will begin only on the date of the transaction's approval by the credit card company / the Company's confirmation that it is in stock. If the transaction is not approved by the credit card companies, a notice will be sent to the User on the Website and/or an email will be sent to the User informing him of same. It is clarified, that in such an event, the order will be deemed not to have been executed from the outset. The Company may bring the supply date forward , subject to the Product's availability in stock at the relevant time, and to the courier company's policy.
- 6.4. The Company is not responsible for delays by the courier company and in any event will not be responsible or liable for a delay in carrying out the supply of the shipment in circumstances that amount to force majeure and/or in other circumstances beyond its control, such as strikes and/or malfunctions, including but without limitation, computer and/or phone and/or email service malfunctions. There may also be delays in delivery due to a failure in the supply chain. There may also be delays in delivery due to a multitude of orders and shipments during special sales days on the Website. Such delays are not the responsibility and/or liability of the Company, and the Customer will have no claim against the Company in this regard. The shipment will be supplied only following completion of the purchase process, i.e., after the order has been received by the Website's system, according to the defined dates, and provided that the credit card company authorised the transaction, and that the Customer verification message was sent accordingly.
- 6.5. In addition to the provisions of these Terms of Use, also the courier company regulations and terms, or those of any other body through which the Company performs the shipment, in its sole discretion, will apply to every shipment of a Product through the Website, and shall bind the User.
- 6.6. If the Customer approves the delivery of the shipment by leaving it near his doorstep, in an electricity cabinet, or in the possession of any third party, etc. – the Company will be exempt from liability for any damage caused to the shipment or the Product, and the responsibility and risk will be transferred to the Customer upon his aforementioned consent.
- 6.7. It is clarified, that as of the completion of an order, it is impossible to change the manner of delivery.
- 6.8. If the Customer has ordered the Product to be sent to his home address by courier, from the time the Customer receives an SMS from the shipping company that the Product is in its possession – the Customer shall be able to change the manner of delivery vis-à-vis the shipping company.

- 6.9. The shipping fee will appear at the end of the order process on the Website and before payment is actually processed. The shipping fee will be charged at the time of the order, and is in addition to the price of the Product.
- 6.10. Shipments will be performed to areas to which the external courier company ordinarily dispatches goods, and subject to the shipping company's policy, including with respect to the undertaking as to the dispatch date.
- 6.11. In areas of limited access, the Company and/or the courier company will be entitled to provide the shipment to the Customer in a nearby and agreed upon place, with prior coordination. The forgoing notwithstanding, it is the Customer's responsibility to ensure that at the time of placing the order, the package can be sent to the requested address.
- 6.12. The order will be supplied after the purchase process has been completed, provided that the Customer owns a valid credit card that can be charged and cleared in Israel, and provided that the credit card company that issued it authorised the transaction executed, and subject to the other terms and conditions detailed in these Terms of use above and hereinafter.
- 6.13. The delivery times listed above do not apply to items that are out of stock. In cases where a Product appearing on the Website is out of stock, and this transpires only after the order is placed, then (i) if the Product out of stock is the only Product requested for order – the order will be cancelled; or (ii) if the order includes several Products, the Product out of stock shall be removed from the order and, respectively, will not be charged and the Customer will be notified accordingly. For the avoidance of doubt, the Company will not be obligated to selling the Product, and the Customer will have no claim and/or demand in this matter in respect of any type of direct and/or indirect damages caused to him and/or to any third party, subject to the Website's management refunding the Customer any sum he paid, if he actually paid the Company and/or will cancel the charge if it was executed.
